

The Daily Market Report

PORTLAND, Nov. 28.—Whatever may be the prospect for the future, the present condition of the onion market is none too favorable. The front street stores are for the most part heavily loaded and the farmers are bringing the product in a little faster than it can be handled to advantage locally, and as yet there is no outside demand, either north or south.

Late Pears in Market.
Considerable arrivals of Winter Nellis pears from the southern part of the state were a feature of the fruit market today. This is one of the favorite late pears and the supply that came in today showed fine quality and moved fairly well at $1 a box.

Receipts of apples were one car and 578 boxes. Trade generally was slow at the last range of quotations. A mixed car of oranges, limes, grape-fruit and grapes arrived from the south. Oranges were quoted lower at $2.50 to $3 a box and grapes at $1 to $1.25 a crate.

Poultry Market is Sluggish.
As was the case yesterday, there was little doing in the poultry market today. Receipts in all lines were light, but there was plenty of stock on the street, and retailers were practically out of the market. Arrivals were 23 coops of chickens, 12 coops of ducks, one coop of geese and one of turkeys.

Strictly fresh Oregon eggs are very scarce and firm at 37 1/2 to 40 cents a dozen, and for the time there is no overstock of Easterns.
